Wollaton Hall and Deer Park not visited yet.

Wollaton Hall [built around 1580] is a spectacular Elizabethan mansion in the heart of Nottingham and is a prominent Grade One Listed building. It now houses the Nottingham Industrial Museum and Natural History Museum and Gallery's.

The surrounding park is also used for events and concerts and visitors are welcome to visit the Hall and park.

The immaculately kept formal gardens provide the perfect spot to sit and relax. Here you can also visit The Camellia House, the oldest cast iron glasshouse in Europe.
