Cusworth Hall has been described as the jewel in Doncaster's crown. The beautiful grade 1 listed building is set in acres of historic parkland with lakes, plantations and pleasure ground with dramatic views across the town. It was extensively restored between 2003-2007 and invites visitors to experience a wealth of architecture, heritage, landscape history, wildlife, exhibitions, events and activities.

The park aims to conserve the historic features of the 18th century landscape and the lakes are rich in habitat for many species of plants and bird life.
