Renishaw Hall & Gardens	A Short Walk	Nr. Renishaw	OS 119 Buxton & Matlock

Renishaw Hall has been in the Sitwells family for nearly 400 years and the fabulous Italianate style gardens dates back to 1895, which have been restored and enhanced, to the geometric design.

On either side of the formal gardens are more naturalistic plantings and to the east of the garden, holly and camellia avenues lead to paths through mature woodland, down to the lakes originally excavated to enhance the view from the house.

Renishaw has now become the permanent home to the National Collection of Yuccas, which now contains more than 40 species.

Enjoy your walk and day out at Renishaw.
